MAYORS SCALFIDE AND LADNER PRESENTED SCOUT CALENDARS

Mayors Garfield Ladner of Waveland and John Scalfide of Bay St. Louis presented the first official Scout Calendar for 1965. The subject for the 1965 Calendar, "Proud Moment," is painted by Norman Rockwell. Rockwell, long renowned for his artistic talent with oil, captures that magic moment of pride expressed by parent and youth alike during the ceremony of the coveted Eagle Scout Award.

The integral part of the Scout movement, the Official Boy Scout Calendar has helped to build community awareness for the importance of the Boy Scout Movement in America for 41 years.

Mayors Scalfide and Ladner urge local businessmen and residents to hang these calendars in prominent places, since the program helps in training our youth today for leadership tomorrow.

This year the calendar program is again sponsored by Merchants Insurance Agency, Inc., for the entire Bay Area.

General distribution of the Scout Calendar for 1965 has begun.

Charged With Car Theft And Shooting

Bond Issue Passes 832 to 543

A New Orleans man is being held in the county jail awaiting action of the grand jury in connection with the theft of an automobile and shooting a deputy sheriff.

Sheriff Sylvan Ladner said Robert Clark, 26, a native resident of Biloxi, Mississippi, was charged with assault and battery with a deadly weapon and auto theft by justice of the Peace Nolan Ladner at a preliminary hearing Friday.

Clark was also sentenced to serve 20 days in jail and court costs on charges of gasoline theft and damaging private property.

According to the Sheriff, Clark shot up several cars in the Clermont Harbor area with a .28 caliber rifle shot at Deputy Leonard Ladner, who was on duty at the time.

Ladner, who is a native of New Orleans, was shot in the chest and arm while on duty at the Harbor. He was taken to the hospital and is expected to recover.

The $1,183,000 bond issue is for an expansion program in the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School System.

The program is a new high school on Blue Meadows Road, enlargement of Valena C. Jones School, two new classrooms for Wayland Elementary School and storage and sleeping room facilities at Tiger Stadium.

Deputy Ladner received a call from Clark on Nov. 19, from the Sheriff's office to check on a man shooting cars around Clermont Harbor. PUBLIC HEARING TO BE DECEMBER 15 AT BILOXI

A public hearing has been scheduled on the Mississippi Gulf Coast as part of a feasibility study of bridge or highway connections to offshore islands in the Mississippi Sound.

Sponsored by the Mississippi State Highway Department, the hearing will be held at 7:00 o'clock Tuesday night, December 15 in the Assembly Room of the City Hall at Biloxi. This site is centrally located in the area under study.

John D. Smith, highway commissioner for the Southern District, announced the meeting and issued a statement urging everyone interested to attend.

S. Charles Adams, field engineer and project manager for Bridges and Associates, the Miami engineering firm conducting the study, will outline progress which has been made thus far, and various possibilities under consideration. He will also answer questions arising from the audience.

Mr. Smith said the purpose of the meeting is to present information which has been compiled, and to hear statements from anyone interested in the project. These may be submitted in writing, or orally, he added.

"We want to be certain that all interests have been considered in our study," Mr. Smith said. The Biloxi location was chosen as a convenience to people of Harrison and Jackson Counties, where primary interest in the development is centered. Three of the islands, Cat, Ship and Deer, are in Harrison County; Round, Horn and Petit Bois are in Jackson County.

At the present time, relatively little use is being made of them, and for the most part, they are uninhabited.

The study is being made as a result of legislation adopted two years ago looking to possible developments of the islands as an added tourist attraction, or for a heretofore undeveloped area.

Similar developments in areas of other states have been highly successful and Rader engineers participated in a number of these. The Florida firm also did a feasibility study several years ago on development of Deer Island for the Biloxi Bridge and Park Commission.

Miss Bay St. Louis, Petty Smith, will take part in the Long Beach Jaycees football bowl game parade Saturday, November 28 at 2:00 p. m., in Long Beach. AMERICA'S EDUCATORS... by Thompson

PAUL DAWSON EDDY became President of Adelphi College in 1937 when Adelphi, hard-hit by the Depression, faced a decreasing enrollment and soaring debts totaling over $1,000,000. Knowing that long island needed a college, Dr. Eddy undertook to develop Adelphi.

HIS LEADERSHIP MEANT PHENOMENAL GROWTH for Adelphi, now a University of more than 6000 compared to an enrollment of 350 in 1937. The $200,000 unbalanced budget of 1937-38 has become a balanced budget of over $8,000,000 today. Faculty salaries have increased 300 per cent.

DR. EDDY'S PERSONAL SUCCESS STORY is no less remarkable. He started work at age 11, later worked his way to several advanced degrees. Before coming to Adelphi, he was a leader in religious education.

AMONG THE HONORS WON BY PRESIDENT EDDY are an honorary Doctor of Laws from Adelphi, the Long Island Press Distinguished Service Award and the Horatio Alger Citation. He was elected a Fellow of the Royal Society of Arts in England for his outstanding contributions to education.

LETTERS

Colmer Objects

Pascagoula, Miss.
 November 20, 1964

Colonel R. C. Marshall
 District Engineer
 Corps of Engineers
 2301 Airport Boulevard
 Mobile, Alabama

My dear Colonel Marshall:

My attention has been called to the proposal for the construction of twin fixed bridges over the Jordan River (Hancock County, Mississippi) in connection with the construction of Interstate Highway 10 with a vertical clearance of 20 feet and a horizontal clearance of 50 feet. We think these clearances are not only inadequate for the future, but for the present usage.

I should like to thank you for ordering a hearing on this project for December 1st at Bay St. Louis in order to give the public an opportunity to record its protests to the proposal. Since it is doubtful that my schedule will permit my personal appearance at that hearing, I desire to hereby submit my own protest to the proposed construction of these bridges as presently planned.

Interstate Highway 10 will traverse my District from the Alabama to the Louisiana State Lines. This section of Mississippi is unquestionably the most highly industrialized and fast growing section of the State of Mississippi. Moreover, its rivers and other waterways flowing into the Mississippi Gulf Sound are also the most important, both in present usage and future potential development, in the entire State.

As the statement and testimony of interested parties will reflect, the present plans are inadequate for Jordan River even at the present use of that River for navigational purposes, not to mention its future potential in this fast developing area.

It is assumed that since these are the first of several bridges to be constructed in Hancock, Harrison and Jackson Counties on this Highway that a precedent will be set for bridges to be constructed later over other streams and waterways with the same or comparable inadequate clearances. In fact, if these present clearances were to be set for all bridges on Highway 10 across the southern part of our State, much damage would be done to the future navigation hopes and plans for the Pascagoula River and its main tributaries forming the Pat Harrison Waterway District.

Small craft make use of the Jordan River above the proposed bridge site for recreation and protection. During treacherous weather, craft abiding 25 feet to 30 feet vertical clearance can find haven up the Jordan River and other coastal inlet streams.

I, therefore, request that the present clearances of 20 feet vertically and 50 feet horizontally, as proposed, be changed to allow for 42 feet vertical clearance and 125 feet horizontal clearance. We must look to our future. Progress and development needed all over this nation will never come if we plan in the past or only in the present.

Sincerely yours,
 Wm. M. COLMER, M. C.

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

The Hancock County Soil Conservation District Commissioners held their regular meeting November 19, at 7:30 p. m., in the home of Otto Kester, chairman. Others present were W. J. Pippen, SCD Commissioner; O. O. Swords, County Agent; Lewis Watts, and Don Click, Soil Conservation Service, and Howard Simmons, County Agent, Harrison County. Other SCD Commissioners not present were Frank Lee, C. T. Favre and Edmond Shaw.

"What is a Soil Conservation District and what does it do?" are questions often asked by landowners and others interested in Soil Conservation. The SCD is a governmental subdivision of the state of Miss., and provides for local management of soil and water resources through farmers cooperating on their own land. The district commissioners serve without pay because they can see that soil and water conservation is making our state more prosperous. The district is assisted by the Soil Conservation Service and other federal, state and local organizations in carrying out its program.

Any landowner who wishes to become a cooperator with the district should contact the Soil Conservation Service office in Bay St. Louis or one of the district commissioners. A conservation plan of his land will be provided with soil suitability maps. Additional technical assistance will be available in planning and applying conservation practices. These services are given without cost to the landowner.

GOOD TUNG CROP BEING HARVESTED

STATE COLLEGE, MISS. Tung growers in South Mississippi are harvesting a very good crop this fall, according to W. W. This farm, a part of the Mississippi Agricultural Experiment Station, is the only such research center

LET US GIVE THANKS...

...ATTEND CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE

Research on tung mechanization is also conducted on the farm, which operated in cooperation with the Crop Research Division, U. S. Department of Agriculture, from offices at nearby Bogalusa, La. Six mechanical tung harvesters, including some experimental ones, are being used on the farm.

Mr. Kilby, with his USDA associates, recently published an extensive study of tung cultivation. It shows how cultivation increases growth and production, reduces leaf spot infection, and helps protect against late spring frosts.

Published in the November issue of Mississippi Farm Research, the complete report is available on request from the Experiment Station at State College.

"The importance of clean tree rows must be emphasized," Mr. Kilby said. "A thorough job of harvesting cannot be done, either by hand or machine, if tree rows are grown up in briars and volunteers. Such undergrowth also traps leaves which cannot be turned under with normal cultivation and, therefore, remain as a source of leaf-spot inoculum."

Tells Tax Needs For Highway Roadwork

State Highway Commissioner John Smith of the Southern District told a public meeting at the Gulfport Chamber of Commerce this week that a state tax to raise gasoline tax by one cent per gallon were passed he would be able to expedite highway work in the Coast area.

Smith was invited to meet with the highways committee of the Chamber at a public meeting to discuss two matters of interest.

The district engineer, James Brownlee, was also at the meeting along with Chamber of Commerce, city and county officials from Harrison and Hancock counties.

Principal topic of the meeting was the development of four-lane highways leading to the Mississippi Test Operations site in Hancock County.

Smith said 1965 will see the beginning of work on two phases of highway work in Hancock County: the four-laning of U. S. Highway 90 from the Bay St. Louis city limits west about three miles to the truck scales and construction of Interstate Highway 10 from the Louisiana line to the interchange of State Highway 63 east of the MTO site.

FOUR-LANING

The major concern expressed at the meeting and the opinion of Smith was for the continuance of four-laning of U. S. Highway 43 and the four-laning of 43 to the interchange of Interstate 10 at the entrance to MTO.

Smith pointed out funds are presently available for this work. He did say Gov. Paul Johnson has indicated he will call a special session of the legislature in the spring for certain issues and he will bring up a gasoline tax increase measure at that time.

A tax increase of one cent per gallon, Smith said, would provide an additional $100 million in road revenues, a third of which would be allotted to the Southern District.

Smith stated if this road program was passed in the legislature, he would expedite the highway improvements in Hancock County and elsewhere on the Coast as soon as possible.

Earlier in the meeting, Smith gave an accounting of the state's gasoline tax and where it goes. He said Mississippians are paying seven cents on each gallon of gas purchased, two and a half cents of which goes directly to the county boards of supervisors for county road work.

Another one and a half cents goes to match federal funds for federal highway projects and one cent is used to pay off about $60 million worth of highway bonds. Smith noted this leaves only two cents from each gallon of gas sold in the state which is used for maintenance of existing roads, operations of the motor vehicle comptroller's office and to aid municipalities in their road work. He cited a study of road needs

Four Mississippi 4-H Members Win State Honors For Outstanding Projects

Fiskerly Miss Morgan Miss Shepherd Paul

Three 4-H Club members from Sunflower, Tate and Yazoo counties will be among 1,500 delegates competing for college scholarships at the 43rd National 4-H Club Congress Nov. 29-Dec. 3 in Chicago.

Fred Fiskerly, 17, of Sunflower; Janet Morgan, 19, of Coldwater; and Denny Paul, 16, of Yazoo City, have won trips to the congress for tractor, dairy and field crops programs.

A 4-H'er from Bolivar County, Miss Kim Shepherd, 16, of Benoit, has won a wrist watch for her dog care and training program.

All programs are supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service.

Tractor Winner
Fiskerly, the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Fiskerly, who was state winner in the tractor program last year, was unable to attend the congress then due to a broken leg.

He will be the guest of the American Oil Foundation while he is in Chicago.

"Learn by doing" has been more than a motto to young Fiskerly. Maintenance of tractors used during eight years in the tractor program has given him knowledge of their operation while other projects, particularly one in beef, have brought him a host of awards.

His 4-H Club leader, Mrs. C. C. Scroggins Jr., said, "I can think of no other 4-H member who is more deserving of the highest honors 4-H has to offer."

Dairy Program
Praise also was forthcoming for Miss Morgan, winner in the dairy program, whose mother said, "She can do anything on the dairy farm that needs to be done."

The Oliver Corporation is donating her trip.

Miss Morgan entered 4-H 10 years ago to show her dairy calf at the county 4-H Dairy Show. Her herd has grown from that one calf to five cows and four calves.

She and her sister and brother scored a coup at the 1964 county show when all 15 animals they entered won blue ribbons. They also earned awards for grand champion, reserve junior and senior champions, and first, second and third places in showmanship.

A variety of field crops has been grown by Paul, the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Paul, during his six years in 4-H. He has found particularly valuable his experience in selecting cotton land and learning the proper time to harvest crops so that they will be of a high grade.

Raised Livestock

Livestock judging and the raising of pigs, sheep and cattle are among Paul's 4-H activities.

The Arxan Chemical Corp., Allied Chemical Corp., will sponsor his trip.

The Ralston Purina Company awarded Miss Shepherd a wrist watch for her achievement in the dog care and training program. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Shepherd Jr., she plans a career in veterinary medicine. She already vaccinates her own dog and horses.

Punishing her dog for not obeying commands proved the most difficult part of training, said Miss Shepherd. Last January the collie she had trained in the program was stolen. Its place has been taken by a German Shepherd puppy won for her excellence in training the collie.

COUNT YOUR BLESSINGS

Thanksgiving Day is a fitting climax this year to National Farm City Week. Probably more than ever before we have much to be thankful for. Record crop yields, a continued strong economy and the lowest costs in history for family food all combine to make this an outstanding year.

According to statistics, only around 19 percent of the take home dollar goes for food. This is the lowest percentage in the world and is even lower than at any other time in our Nation's history.

PROPER MILKING

Use of proper milking procedures will help you get more milk from each cow; help produce cleaner milk and reduce cases of mastitis; and help you milk the herd in less time and save money.

Always handle cows gently. Wash and massage the udder and teats. Take two squirts from each teat into a rip cup. Then, a minute later attach the milking machine so that full advantage is taken of the let-down hormone. Strip by machine. Then as soon as milk quits flowing, remove the machine.

It is important that the machine not be left on too long as this is one of the major causes of injured udder tissue, which often leads to mastitis.

FARM CITY WEEK

November 22-26 - National Farm City Week is a good time to point out the interdependence of City and farm people upon each other. It is also a good time to highlight in the state authorized by the 1960 Legislature which reported, "Nearly every mile of highways in the state now being maintained will need major repairs within 20 years," Smith added, "Most of them need it right now."

He noted the major project for the past four years has been the four-laning of U. S. Highway 49 from Gulfport to Jackson. He said the problem has been one of work piling up: "Before we can complete this, these others are laid in our lap and there's nothing we can do about it."

The gathering indicated its approval of the tax increase if it would provide accelerated development of the Hancock County road work.

The Hancock County and Gulfport Chambers indicated they would pursue this course further prior to the special legislative session.

Later in the meeting, Commissioner Smith told the highways committee he had approved the construction of 14 left turning bays on U. S. Highway 90 in the Coast area.

The chamber had expressed concern about this problem in the past and told Smith of some of the intersections within the city limits.

ONE AMONG MANY—The only male enrolled in an institution management class in the University of Mississippi Department of Home Economics is William Paden of Greenville. The course is designed to teach large scale food management for restaurants, hotels, hospitals and schools—Paden's family owns several restaurants, thus his interest in food management. Here he works with fellow Ole Miss students (from left) Martha Floyd, New Orleans; Christine Wallace, Guntown; Cecelia Richardson, New Albany; Jane Bigger, Marion, Ark.; and Margaret Jones, Waynesboro. Members of the class get practical training in large scale food preparation by actually planning, preparing and serving dinners for groups of 35 to 125 on campus.

the contributions of agriculture and agriculture-related industry to the total overall economy of Mississippi.

FARM CENSUS

If you have not already received your agricultural census forms you should within the next few days.

Anyone who operates a farm, regardless of size, must fill out the census forms.

All information on the census is confidential. The information is used for statistical purposes only. Enumerators will begin collecting forms on November 23, so try to have yours filled out before the visit of the enumerator.

FERTILIZE PASTURES

Pasture land is too valuable not to fertilize and get a profit from. Fertilizer needed now is for clover and legumes. Recommendations are to spread phosphorus and potash on legume areas as soon as possible so that the job is done while land is dry enough for equipment to get over it.

It is also important that all pasture land where the pH is below 6 be limed. It is suggested that one-fourth of the pasture land be limed each year.

Grace for Thanksgiving

Dear Lord, we give Thee thanks this day,
But not alone the daily bread—
Nor all Thy gifts which bless our lives,
Nor for the feast before us spread.

We thank Thee for peace in our time,
For love that makes life's burdens light,
For friendships shared, for hope and joy,
But mostly for the precious right

To think and speak as conscience leads,
To worship Thee, each in his way,
To walk in freedom where we will,
Lord, as we pause to praise and pray.

From our abundant love we share
Thy gifts with all who love Thee here!
